

NCRAR welcomes new Director

NCRAR is pleased to announce that Dr. M. Patrick Feeney was recently appointed as the new Director of the National Center for Rehabilitative Auditory Research (NCRAR), succeeding Dr. Stephen A. Fausti who founded and directed this national Center of Excellence from 1997-2010.

Dr. Feeney brings over 32 years of proven management, research and clinical experience to complement NCRAR's established team of researchers and research support staff. In addition to his role as Director of the NCRAR, Dr. Feeney maintains an active research program evaluating new tests of middle- and inner-ear function, and the use of new technologies in adult hearing screening. He also devotes a portion of his time to serving the clinical needs of Veterans in the PVAMC Audiology clinic. Dr. Feeney is ideally suited to further the NCRAR's pursuit of its goals to serve Veterans with auditory impairments.